flow, that they may be exterminated," concludes the dispatch.

The next day after the outrages the Petrograd Soviet passed a resolution increasing the wages of the Soviet Guard to 300 rubles a month, in addition to their food. It is especially characteristic that during the last few days no section of the population, even the working class, has received any bread. Workers only received small rations of meal.

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 9. (Associated Press.)—Dispatches received from Russia announcing that the neutral Ministers have protested against the wholesale shooting of political prisoners and threatening to expel the Bolsheviki from neutral countries if the political executions continue, caused no surprise to travelers recently returned from Russia, who were in Moscow and Petrograd when the wild taking of hostages began.

Ten thousand officers of the old army who were ordered to register in Moscow were held prisoner for nearly a week, almost without food. Cholera broke out among them, because of the crowded and insanitary conditions of their quarters.

Leon Trotsky, the Bolshevist Secretary of War, wired General Alexeieff, Commander in Chief of the Anti-Bolshevist forces, that an officer would be shot for every Bolshevik killed by the Czechs or white Guard. Alexeieff is reported to have replied that if officers were shot he would not stop reprisals until every Jew in Russia was quartered. Finally a majority of them from Moscow, were released, but hundreds of officers are missing and are reported to have been shot. Many thousands of officers of Moscow refused to answer the call to register and made their escape to the various Anti-Bolshevist fronts.

In Petrograd the officers summoned for registration were generally taken to Kronstadt, where thousands are still held prisoner.

Captain Cromie, the British Naval Attaché, who was killed by the Bolsheviki, who mutilated his body and let it hang out of the embassy window until the neutral diplomats threatened to leave Petrograd if it was not removed, was friendly to the Bolsheviki and belonged to the group of British officials who urged recognition of the Soviet Republic and co-operation with it until Trotsky broke faith about permitting the Czechs to leave Russia by way of Siberia.

RED PRESS BLOODTHIRSTY.

Extermination of Bourgeoisie and Social Revolutionaries Preached.

Copyright, 1918, by The New York Times Company.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 10.—The latest Bolshevist papers to reach here are filled with sanguinary articles, appeals and resolutions, demanding a "mass terror" against the Bourgeoisie in consequence of the attempts on Lenin and Uritsky, which were committed by the Socialists. The general watchword is individual terrorism.

The Commune of the North [Petrograd] has decided to begin the extermination of the Bourgeoisie and its conscious agents.

Krasnay's Gazeta publishes a dispatch from the front, at Smoliev, demanding bloodless vengeance and death to the Socialists. "Laws and tribunals of justice are not necessary in order that their blood may